

What is Macro Keys?

Macro Keys is a time saving and Productivity software that helps you to save your time by creating macros (shortcuts) for specific repetitive texts. It creates shortcut keys that trigger when typed to replace larger repetitive texts. Macro Keys also takes good care of your clipboard i.e. copied items by maintaining a list of multiple copied items that can also be triggered using hardcoded clipboard shortcuts. Furthermore, the program offers a way to run any file, folder, application, email or internet address by setting a hotkey for it. Apart from being a three in one product, Macro Keys takes special care of your shortcuts, clipboard items and macros by saving them in encrypted format and by letting you set a password to run the program. Macro Keys works on all flavors of Windows.

Macro is basically a single, user-defined command that is part of an application and executes replacement texts triggering via a shorthand representation. This will speed up your work and complete lengthy task in short time.

Macro Keys is of great help for the people who used to do tedious tasks like medical transcription, customer support, data entry, managing sales records, administrative and clerical assistance, lab technician, software developer, librarians, documentation specialists, report making, academic assignments and many more... The choices are endless. It will greatly increase your productivity and save your precious time.

Macro Keys is the only time saver software program available in the market that not only saves time by creating macros and automating repetitive tasks but also enhance your productivity at work. You can work faster and smarter by using Macro Keys and type without any typos.

Macro Keys works with all the programs that allow text input such as a word processor, text editor, email program, instant messenger, online forms, etc. It replaces a text sequence with a letter, word, sentence, paragraph or several paragraphs. You do not have to type the text manually that kills your time and is very painstaking. Simply select a word or text and correlate it with the replacement text.

Macro Keys also automatically record macros for replacing text of any length and auto-complete forms without the hassle of typing it, it saves up to 100 clipboard entries, triggers any program, software, application, folder, drive, website with hotkey and enables you to replace a long text or numbers of paragraph by just one word or letter. All created macros and shortcuts are password protected and saved in an encrypted form to ensure they could not be misused by any mean. All these encrypted macros are saved in a .mck file. Whenever you double click this file, it will automatically import in Macro Keys.

Macro Keys not only create Macro shortcuts but can also store up to 100 clipboard entries. You can also set Hotkeys for the program you need to run often by using Hotkey Launcher that enables you to enter a combination of keystrokes to be used as a hotkey.

Whenever you run Macro Keys, window of 'Macro Shortcuts' will open by default enabling you to add, edit and delete macros. Adding macro using Macro Keys is very simple.

To set a macro, run the program and click 'Add Macro' button. 'Type Macro and Text to Send' field will allow you to set a shortcut text as Macro and the replacement text, word, sentence, paragraph(s) even articles that you want to be played back for that macro.

To make Macro Keys work, run the program and all word and replacement combinations will be active. Once Macro Keys is running, it will monitor all keyboard activities. If one of the specified words or macro is used, it will be erased and the replacement text will be keyed in its place automatically.

Multiple Clipboards

Multiple clipboards feature of Macro Keys automatically collects up to 100 clipboard entries that you copied during working so that you can use it later. To make it work, you need not to set any option because 'Enable Multiple clipboard' feature is active by default.

To use data from your multiple clipboards list, simply enter the shortcut for that entry and Macro Keys will replace it with your copied item. You can also save clipboard data as macros.

Macro Keys is designed in such a way that it can collect clipboard information even if it is not running. To set this option, go to 'Options' tab and check 'Fetch Clipboard on Load' and click 'Apply'.

You can also choose to add new entries on top of the list by checking the box 'Add New Entries to Top' and click 'Apply'.

Hotkeys Launcher

Macro Keys has another expeditious feature to launch any program, application, software, folder, website to visit and send emails to your friends and relatives simply by entering Hotkey.

You can set a Hotkey for launching any application by simply clicking 'Hotkey Launcher' tab > 'Add Hotkey'. Specify the path for that application and assign a hotkey to launch that program and click 'OK'.

You can also quickly open a website in your default web browser and send email to your friend, colleague, co-workers, relatives and family member by using Hotkey feature of Macro Keys.

To set a Hotkey to open a website or to send email by simply clicking 'Hotkey Launcher' tab > 'Add Hotkey'. Enter the web address (URL of the site you want to be triggered by Hotkey) or Email address (where you want to send email). Assign a hotkey and click 'Ok'

General Settings

You can configure three different actions for Macro Keys to perform using its Options:

General Settings

General settings of Macro Keys have following options:

Start at Windows Startup (recommended option / active by default)

Use Clipboard for All (Active by default)

Use Keyboard for All

Simply check any of these items to activate them.

Macro Keys offers you two different options to insert all of your macros into other applications either by using Windows clipboard (Use Clipboard for All) or by using keyboard option (Use Keyboard for All).

Macro Keys send replacement text to your application in one of the above two methods when you enter a macro. If you choose 'Use Clipboard for All', Macro Keys will copy the replacement text to the Windows clipboard and then tell your application to paste it into your current document. While if you choose 'Use Keyboard for All', Macro Keys will send the replacement text to your application as if it was being typed from the keyboard.

Multiple clipboard Settings

When you run the application and copy any item, Macro Keys will automatically save that item in its multiple clipboards and have it ready to paste whenever you need it. Multiple clipboards feature of Macro Keys is enabled by default to store up to 100 copied items in it. If you copy more than 100 items, Macro Keys will replace the older ones to make room for the new entries.

With Macro Keys, you can also fetch clipboard content that you have copied when it is not running. If you enable this option, Macro Keys will automatically trace out what you have copied and place it in its multiple clipboards. You can also choose to place newly copied items on the top of the list. To enable/disable any of these options, click 'Options' > Multiple Clipboard Settings and place a check mark beside the options and click 'Apply'.

Macro Keys Settings

Macro Keys setting helps you to specify a prefix to be used with all macros to execute them and the path where an encrypted file of your recorded macros will be saved. The prefix that you define here will be used with all of your macros.

The following characters may be entered and used as Prefix for your macros:

This prefix will be added to the front end of every macro.
